

As an RABC Approved Reflexology Practitioner

- You are required to obtain Liability insurance for your professional practice;
- Check with your Municipality or Regional District if you require a Business License, and if your place of business is zoned for business use;
- Keep track, and obtain verification of all activities/courses for Continuing Education Credits (CE Credits) – see the CE Credits form for a list of what qualifies for CE Credits;
- RABC Approved Reflexology Practitioners are required to collect 30 CE credits every 3 years to remain an RABC Approved Reflexology Practitioner;
- To remain in good standing Membership Fees must be paid each year in January;
- You may want to register your Business Name with Service BC; but this is not necessary if you are using your own name;
- Add your RABC Membership Number on your client's receipt – as they may have an Extended Health Plan that covers some of the cost of a Reflexology session;
- With your permission, RABC will advertise your contact and place of business on RABC's website - under the Approved Practitioner tab.

Participate in RABC:

- Read the Newsletter, check the website for upcoming workshops, courses and events;
- Sign on the RABC Facebook, and post and share;
- Sponsor a Reflexology course in your region – a teacher/instructor may agree to come to your area;
- Participate in Public Events in your area. As an RABC Approved Reflexology Practitioner or RABC Reflexology Teacher in good standing you may use the RABC Logo for any print material that you are printing.
- Participate on the RABC Board or its Committees – it is fun & you get CE Credits!
- Attend the AGM, whether as an online forum or in person, and bonus, receive CE Credits;
- Promote World Reflexology Week: - Held annually worldwide during the last week of September;
- Raise awareness in your community about our love REFLEXOLOGY!
